DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. Previous rejections not discussed in this office action have been withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 23-25, 28-30, 33 and 34 are indefinite for only illustrating partial removal of the claimed formula AA-CO-NH-CH(CH₃)CH₂OH. In claim 28 only -CO-NH-CH(CH₃)CH₂OH is removed from the claim. Please repair claim 28 by showing the total removal of the entire structure AA-CO-NH-CH(CH₃)CH₂OH.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 28-30, 33 and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Abadji et al (R -Methanandamide: A Chiral Novel Anandamide Possessing Higher Potency and Metabolic Stability, J. of Medicinal Chem., 1994, Vol. 37, no. 12, pp. 1889-1893). Abadji teaches a method of administering the instant purified compound AA-CO-NH-CH(CH₃)CH₂OH to laboratory animals. The compound inhibits the transport of anandamide.

Claims 25,27,28 and 31-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Calignano et al (Potentiation of anandamide hypotension by the transport inhibitor, AM404, European J. of Pharm, 1997, vol. 337, pp. R1-R2). Calignano teaches a method of administering purified AM404 to laboratory animals. The compound inhibits the transport of anandamide.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 23 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Abadji et al as applied to claims 28-30, 33 and 34. Abadji teaches all that is recited in instant claims except for the method comprising the compound having the instant stereochemistry. However, it would be obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to employ the instant stereoisomer, because stereoisomers are similar in structure and therefore would be expected to yield similar activity absent a showing to the contrary.
